

3 weeks on, Newa residents await power transformer

Pulwama, June 30: Inhabitants of Newa town of south Kashmir today slammed the local Power Development Department (PDD) authorities for failing to replace a defunct transformer installed in the locality, for last three weeks.

A group of residents of Astan Mohalla Newa said the authorities are dilly dallying installation of the transformer which had been taken for repairs after it developed some technical snag.

"More than three weeks have lapsed since the power transformer installed in our village developed some technical snag, it was taken by the authorities for repairs but have since failed to replace the transformer and we are forced to live in pitch darkness", said the locals.

The residents threatened to stage a sit-in on Natipora-Pulwama road if the transformer was not replaced at the earliest. "We will be left with no other option as the authorities have turned a deaf ear towards our problems", they said.

They appealed the higher authorities in the department and the government to intervene in the issue. "We regularly pay our electricity bills and despite that the government has failed to ensure supply of power to our area", they said.

Executive Engineer PDD Pulwama said: "The issue was brought into my notice and we will make sure power supply is restored in the area within a couple of days."

TWA appeals Chief Minister

Srinagar, June 30: All Jammu and Kashmir Transporters Welfare Association (TWA) has appealed to Chief Minister Omar Abdullah to direct concerned officials to not allow paid parking here to turn into commercial bus stands.

"Some of the SDA paid parking lots are used for pick and drop of the passengers by commercial vehicles. The act is harmful to our livelihood and also adversely affects the common public to get their cars parked at these places as they remain jam packed," reads a TWA handout.

The Association has appealed CM to personally intervene into the matter and direct concerned official to disallow the process.

»»»» Hike in old age pension

Govt non-serious; committee yet to be constituted

Jammu, June 30: The state government has failed to meet the assurance of increasing the monthly pension of old aged, widows and disabled persons given on the floor of the house during last budget session.

Sharing the concern of the members that needy people are getting meager pension in the present time of high inflation, the Minister for Higher Education, Muhammad Akbar Lone, on the behalf of Minister for Social Welfare, Sakina Itoo, had assured the Legislative Assembly (LA) that a departmental committee would be constituted to explore feasibility for enhancing financial assistance to old-aged, widows and disabled persons and report would be submitted in the next session.

The government assurance had come after CPI-M legislator M Y Targami decided to press the private member resolution seeking increase in the financial assistance to the widows, old-aged people and other persons.

Talking to Greater Kashmir, Minister for Social Welfare claimed that a departmental committee constituted earlier has already examined the financial implications for enhancing pensions.

However, she said that the state government doesn't have funds to enhance the pensions immediately.

"Main component of various types of pensions disbursed through social welfare department is given by Government of India (GOI). We took the issue with the Centre to enhance the funds several times but they did not give any response," she claimed and added that the state government will submit a revised proposal shortly.
