

'KPs have rejected proposal for return to original locations'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Jammu, July 4: The proposal for the return of displaced Kashmiri Pandits to their original locations in the Valley has been rejected by the community, Youth All India Kashmiri Samaj said today.
 "The return of Kashmiri Pandits (KPs) in previous locations and such small clusters have already been rejected by the community," YAIKS President R K Bhat said at a youth convention here.
 YAIKS is an organisation of Kashmiri Pandits youths.
 He said the convention strongly condemned and rejected the recent revised roadmap for the return of displaced KPs in Valley approved by the state Cabinet without seeking the consent of the displaced community members.
 Bhat alleged that the revised proposal has been prepared at the behest of the separatists.
 The roadmap shows that government was more keen to keep the separatists happy rather than show serious concerns for the return of KPs, he alleged.
 "Nobody can stop us from going back to our motherland, we are equal stakeholders of Jammu and Kashmir as others. We are an integral part of the civilization."
 "We can stay in any part of the Valley, whole Kashmir is ours. The separatists must know that our property has been looted and encroached, our houses have been gutted during militancy, there is no sense of security, so how is it possible that we go to our original places," he said.
 "Politics is being played again with the sentiments of KPs who have been thrown away from their motherland and are living exiled life as refugees in their own country. Indian secularism, leadership, democracy have failed to defend our fundamental rights," Bhat said.
 He said YAIKS will prepare a blueprint for the eventual return of KPs to the Valley and it will be submitted before the community for its approval.

'IS takes control of all main Syria oil fields'

Beirut, July 4: The Islamic State now fully controls all of Syria's main oil and gas fields, which are located in Deir Ezzor province next to Iraq, a monitoring group said.
 IS declared an "Islamic caliphate" in areas it controls in Syria and Iraq, where it is spearheading an offensive against government troops.
 "IS took control of the Tanak oil field, located in the Sheiyat desert area in the east of Deir Ezzor province," late yesterday after rival rebels withdrew, said the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights.
 Earlier that day the jihadists seized the major Al-Omar oil field. They have still not captured the tiny Al-Ward oil field, which produces barely 200 barrels of oil per day and is in the hands of a local tribe, Observatory director Rami Abdel Rahman said.
 IS seized Tanak and Al-Omar after rival fighters from Al-Qaeda's Al-Nusra Front and other Syrian rebel groups withdrew from those areas, said the Observatory.
 In Deir Ezzor, IS has taken over nearly all the countryside, its forces bolstered by heavy weapons captured from Iraqi troops fleeing an offensive that it spearheaded.
 In January, Al-Nusra and other Islamist militants turned their guns on the jihadists, then known as the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant, as they swept across Syria imposing their hegemony and brutal abuse.
 The rebels expelled IS from the northeastern Idlib province and much of Aleppo, though the jihadist group has recently gone on the counter-offensive in Aleppo.
 Today, IS seized control of the Kurdish villages of Zur Maghar and Bayada near the Turkish border, said the Observatory.
 Speaking to AFP, Abdel Rahman warned that Aleppo city's rebel areas "are now surrounded from all sides, by the regime and by the jihadists they are fighting."

Former playboy bunny Felixia Yeap converts To Islam

Manila, July 4: A former Playboy model is observing Ramadan for the first time after converting to Islam.
 Felixia Yeap, who became the third Malaysian woman ever to pose for the men's magazine when she appeared in Playboy Philippines, described her transition as a "rebirth".
 In a message posted on her Facebook page she told her 835,000 followers that she never felt close to God until she embraced Islam.
 "I went to Catholic Church every Sunday evening for two years. I've tried to understand Christianity," she told her fans. "I've tried to find new meaning in worshipping Kuan Yin and others. I also tried to adopt Buddhist practices. But my heart never felt close to God. My heart never felt touched."
 "Today is an historic date for me. It's like a rebirth. Incidentally, this year, my birthday falls on the 5th of Ramadan."
 "I'm more excited to know that this date falls on a Thursday, the Prophet Muhammad's (SAW) favourite day."
 Yeap signed off the post by saying she was looking forward to starting a new chapter in her life.
 "I hope everyone will pray that I will be steadfast and committed in my new journey," she said.
 "Only Allah can repay all those who prayed for my new life." The 28-year-old beauty converted to her new faith at the Taman Tun Dr Ismail Mosque in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

Encounter cases

Court exempts Amit Shah from appearance

Mumbai, July 4: The special CBI court here yet again exempted BJP leader Amit Shah from appearing before it today in connection with the alleged fake encounter cases of Tulsiram Prajapati and Sohrabuddin Sheikh.
 "Shah is engaged in political work in New Delhi and therefore not able to come to court," read the exemption application filed by Shah's lawyer Robin Moger. Special Judge B H Loya later adjourned the case till July 17 after taking on record the exemption applications of Shah and some of the other accused.
 Meanwhile the court is likely to hear Shah's discharge application on July 14.
 Last time on June 20, Judge Loya's predecessor Judge J T Utpat had remanded the counsel of Shah for seeking exemption without assigning any reason to it.
 "Every time you are giving this exemption application without assigning any reason," judge Utpat had said. Judge Utpat was transferred to Pune on June 25.
 The court had on May 9 issued summons to Shah and other accused in the case, which had been transferred from Gujarat to Mumbai earlier this year. The CBI had charge-sheeted Shah and 18 others, including several police officers, in the case last September.
 According to CBI, gangster Sohrabuddin Sheikh, who was claimed to have links to Pakistan-based terror outfit Lashkar-e-Toiba, and his wife

Kausar Bi were abducted by Gujarat's Anti-Terrorism Squad when they were on way from Hyderabad to Sangli in Maharashtra and killed in an alleged fake encounter near Gandhinagar in November 2005. Tulsiram Prajapati, an eyewitness to the encounter, was killed by police at Chapri village in Banaskantha district of Gujarat in December 2006. PTT
