HC show-cause notice to former DC Pulwama

D A RASHID

Srinagar, Aug 9: Jammu and Kashmir High Court has issued a show-cause notice to former Deputy Commissioner of Pulwama for filing a “wrong affidavit” regarding stone quarries in the district.

A division bench of Justice Muzaffar Hussain Attar and Justice Hasmain Massodi issued the notice after perusal of status report by under secretary Industries and Commerce Department, revealing that there are 980 stone quarries still operational in Pulwama district.

“In the last status report, the then Commissioner Pulwama, Manzoor Ahmad Lone had taken a stand that all stone quarries operational in Kahcharai/Shamilaat land in District Pulwama have been closed down and made non functional. This report of the then Deputy Commissioner Pulwama prima facie appears to be false,” the court said.

The court asked the Deputy Commissioner Pulwama to explain his position by filing affidavit as to how and in which manner he had filed status report, which, in view of the status report filed by the under secretary, has turned out to be wrong.

“He will also show cause as to why he should not be proceeded against for wilfully and deliberately interfering with the process of the court,” the court added.

In a separate direction, the court granted “with great reluctance” two weeks further time to the respondents to file consolidated report about all the status reports filed by revenue authorities of each district to pass an effective order in this regard.

The court also directed that the District Level Committees, constituted for identifying the alternate sites for allotment of land to the affected persons for installing quarries there, to expedite the process and furnish report within two week’s time.

While the directions came on a public interest litigation filed by Sofi Arif Maqbool through his counsel, G Murtaza, the court requested Advocate M M Dar, who was present, to associate himself with G Murtaza and assist the Court in the proceedings along with him

Guv, CM greet people on Raksha Bandhan

KU’s North Campus awaits introduction of engg courses

ALTAF BABA

Baramulla, Aug 9: Despite passing of several years since the commission of Kashmir University’s North Campus here, the varsity authorities have failed to start various engineering courses, leaving aspirants high and dry.

A sign board erected in the premises of the Campus reads ‘site for B. Tech in electronics, electrical, civil and mechanical engineering’, however, only B.

Tech in computer engineering has been introduced in the past five years.

Slamming University authorities for not introducing various engineering courses, the civil society of the town expressed apprehensions that Campus was being robbed of some of the existing courses, likely to be shifted somewhere else.

“If the North Campus is not empowered fully, its existence becomes questionable. We thought that starting this Campus will spare our wards from travelling outside state for various engineering courses, however, it all seems now a mirage,” said Muhammad Rajab, a lecturer and member of the civil society.

“Even attempts are underway to shift the computer engineering course from here but people of the district will resist the move with full might,” warned Rajab.

Pertinently, in a recent notification, Kashmir University has sought admission for various engineering courses at Zakura Campus, ignoring North Campus completely.

When contacted, Director, KU’s North Campus, Dr Irshad Ahmad Wani said: “We have already discussed the proposal with the authorities. These courses have been planned for 12th plan period. However, infrastructure also needs to be developed at the Campus before introducing such courses.”
