

September 2014 floods

Budgam families cry for relief

MUDASIR YAQOOB

Srinagar, July 22: Hundreds of families of Kawoosa Khalisa in central Kashmir’s Budgam district, hit by September 2014 floods, have alleged that they were not given any compensation as concerned officials had failed to register assessment of their damages while preparing the list.

The flood-hit residents said that revenue officials prepared the list of affected families in closed rooms. “The list was prepared thus to benefit only some influential persons who were shown in records as having their houses fully damaged, while the poor have been left out from the list who actually are the worst hit,” said a group of locals led by Abdul Rahim Gojree.

“We brought the grievance in the notice of concerned officials who failed to probe the matter and redress grievance of 330 left out families,” they added.

“Some families have received more than two cheques for one structure in our locality. The officials and some influential locals are hand in glove in this fraud,” they alleged.

“As many as 330 flood-hit families have been left out. Others have received second instalment of compensation money and we are yet to receive even interim relief announced by previous NC-Congress regime,” they rued.

Threatening to hit streets if their grievances were not redressed soon, the victims have sought personal intervention of Chief Minister Mufti Muhammad Sayeed and Divisional Commissioner Asgar Samoon into the matter.

When contacted for his comment, Deputy Commissioner Budgam said, “I am in a meeting and can’t talk.”

Jama'at establishes relief camp in Kullan

SHEIKH NAZIR

Kangan, July 22: Scores of activists of Islami Jama'at-e-Tulba Wednesday launched sanitation drive in flood-hit village of Kullan here while its parent organisation, Jama'at-e-Islami established a relief camp for the affected people on Srinagar-Leh highway in the hamlet.

The relief camp is providing food and medical aid to the sufferers.

The area was ravaged by flash floods caused due to cloudburst on July 16 that claimed five lives, injured many and damaged property worth crores of rupees in Kullan, Gagangeer, Bodpaden and Sonamarg.

About 50 families are being provided food, drinking water and medical facilities in the camp.

Gul Muhammad War, Jama'at district president for Ganderbal told Greater Kashmir that the relief work will continue for some time.

"As the flooding in Kullan area has destroyed most of the dwelling structures, we felt it our duty to reach out to the affected people and extend a helping hand to them as they are in dire straits after being hit by natural calamity," War said.

IN THE LOVING MEMORY OF WONDERFUL FATHER

Late Mir Syed Qazi Abdul Rashid Shah
1st January 1911 to 23rd July 1995

It all began with family and ended with a legacy. He left behind a treasure and hoped we understand. He stand up for what we believe in and fight for what is right

We believe that you are with us, when the sorrow is too much, you can see us when we celebrate and smile, and we believe that you are happy when joy comes ones in a while, we believe that you still love us from the place of eternal rest and that love far travels and for this we feel blessed.

You were a pillar of determination, inspiration, strength, mindful guide, a cordial friend, a mentor for us always and will remain as such for the years to come.

We always pray to Almighty God that He may give peace to your soul and lay you in heavens. Aameen.
